

ENTRY DEADLINE: 11 December 2020

RESPIRATORY CARE INITIATIVE OF THE YEAR

Having been identified as a clinical priority by the Long-Term Plan respiratory diseases such a COPD or pneumonia have a renewed focus. Collaboration with charities and arms-length bodies have created valued partnerships. This has enabled service delivery to improve as well as looking at reducing the financial burden the area places on the budgets.

A key area of focus is outreach for early diagnosis which therefore reduces pressure on the health service. Working in partnership across care boundaries and with the third sector can be important to reaching those goals.

This award will recognise NHS and public sector organisations and local care economies that are making progress on respiratory care. Our judges will be looking for teams who can demonstrate that a change in approach has significantly bolstered the quality of care, and so improved financial value and patient experience. Judges will also be looking for integrated initiatives of prevention and treatment.

Eligibility

Entrants for this award will be any organisation from the NHS, general practice, community and primary care as well as other public sector bodies making things better.

JUDGING CRITERIA

Ambition

- Provide a clear rationale for the initiative including the context of care provision
- Explain how the initiative aimed to improve the care of people with respiratory illness, and simultaneously improve financial value and efficiency – this can also be related to a preventative initiative
- Explain how the initiative was informed by existing best practice or evidence
- Include any relation to objectives set by bodies driving better practice

Outcome

- Evidence that the initiative has led to an improvement in patient care, and a resulting improvement in value for the local care economy.
- This must include a quantitative aspect but can also include qualitative measures such as patient feedback.
- How has the initiative better allocated resources on care and prevention?
- What has been the result for the patient experience including any reduction in variation?

WHY WAS LAST YEAR'S WINNER SUCCESSFUL?

The judges felt that the University Hospitals of Derby and Burton FT was an excellent service with a very enthusiastic and engaging team involved. The change brought together several services into one with a single point of referral, clearly keeping the patient is at the centre, and with a strong evidence base to the service change. The project had clear aims to reduce variation of treatment by clinicians, and for patients to see one member of staff rather than several. The lung line is a great example of the way patients are supported by a holistic model of care, which also includes areas outside the traditional medical model such as social prescribing.
